IETS OM OOR NA TE DINK!!

Are you delivering your son's forgotten lunch? His sports equipment? His binder or homework?

Please turn around and save yourself from.... "The Walk of Shame."

Your son will learn to be independent and responsible if you dont bring these forgotten items to school to bail him out, even if you sincerely believe that it's your fault and not his.

He will not starve, lose his starting position, fail out of school or lose his chance to become President because he does not have the item you were thinking of delivering.

Please let him grow up to be the Great Griffin we know he can be.

Thanks. Have a great day.
Your friendly President and Headmaster
